The Bank invites written comments from your institution on this ED, including suggestions for particular issues, areas to be further clarified/elaborated and any alternative proposal that the Bank should consider. To facilitate the Bank’s assessment, please support each comment with clear rationale, accompanying evidence or illustrations, as appropriate.

Written comments in the form of softcopy are preferable and may be submitted to shariahstandard@bnm.gov.my by 10 January 2014. Hardcopy of the written feedback may also be submitted to:

PART B   DEFINITION AND NATURE OF HIBAH

7. Definition

S 7.1  Hibah refers to a transfer of ownership of an asset from the donor to the donee during the lifetime of the donor without any consideration or reward.

8. Nature

S 8.1  Hibah is a benevolent contract whereby the donor (wahib) gives the asset at his own discretion.

S 8.2  The hibah contract is a unilateral contract which is revocable prior to the donee (mawhub lahu) taking possession of the hibah asset.

S 8.3  Notwithstanding paragraph 8.2, the hibah contract is irrevocable upon the donee taking possession of the hibah asset. At that point, the donor cannot revoke the hibah contract unilaterally.

S 8.4  The specific inherent nature of the hibah contract is the unilateral transfer of ownership of the hibah asset from the donor to the donee without any consideration or reward.

\(^2\) The legal capacity of a person is defined as capacity to assume rights and responsibilities; and capacity to give legal effect to his action. Among the important conditions are that the person must possess sound mind and the capacity to distinguish between what is harmful or beneficial to one’s interests.

Legal capacity of a legal entity is defined as eligibility of an entity to acquire rights and assume responsibilities.
9.8 The expression may be effected through an appropriate documentation or any other method accepted by customary business practice ('urf tijari) which do not contravene the Shariah principles.

9.9 Any term or condition mutually agreed upon which does not contravene the Shariah shall be binding on the parties.

10. Asset

10.1 Asset in a hibah contract shall meet the following conditions:

(a) the asset is recognised by the Shariah, valuable, identifiable and deliverable; and

(b) the asset is already in existence and owned by the donor.

10.2 The hibah asset may be a tangible or an intangible asset.

10.3 The intangible asset may include receivables.

10.4 The hibah asset may be a movable or an immovable asset.

10.5 The hibah asset may be in the form of an undivided asset.

10.6 The ownership in the hibah asset must be effectively transferred from the donor to the donee.

10.7 The transfer of ownership shall take effect by the donor disposing of the right of ownership (takhliyah) resulting in the donee having access to the asset (tamkin) and assuming its risk through any mechanism permitted by the Shariah and generally accepted by customary business practices ('urf tijari).
S 10.8 Possession of the asset shall be either in the form of physical possession (qabd haqiqi) or constructive possession (qabd hukmi).

S 10.9 Upon effective possession of the hibah asset by the donee, the donor has no right to revoke or to withdraw the hibah contract.

11. Requirements of hibah

S 11.1 The hibah contract shall take an immediate effect at the time of entering into the contract by the parties.

G 11.2 Notwithstanding paragraph 11.1, the parties may agree to make the effect of the hibah contract contingent upon a certain trigger event in the future.

G 11.3 The parties may agree to make the effect of the hibah contract contingent upon fulfilment of a certain condition provided that the condition is Shariah compliant.

G 11.4 The donor may give a conditional hibah which is contingent upon the demise of either of the parties as a condition of ownership for the surviving party (hibah ruqba). In such situation, the hibah asset will be owned by the donee upon the death of the donor.

S 11.5 Notwithstanding paragraph 11.4, in the event that the donee dies before the donor, the hibah asset shall return to the donor.

S 11.6 The effect of hibah contract is permanent. Thus, the donor shall not stipulate a period for the hibah contract.

G 11.7 Notwithstanding paragraph 11.6, the donor may stipulate that the hibah shall be revoked upon the demise of the donee.
G 11.8 A donor undergoing a terminal illness (maradh al-maut) may give hibah provided that it is not more than one-third of his estate.

S 11.9 Pursuant to paragraph 11.8, in the event that the donor gives more than one-third of his estate, the effect of hibah is contingent upon the consent of his heirs.
PART D  ARRANGEMENT OF HIBAH WITH OTHER CONTRACTS

12. Arrangement of hibah with sale contract

G 12.1 The hibah contract may be arranged together with sale contract.

G 12.2 The seller may give hibah in the form of discount in the price to the purchaser who pays the instalment on schedule or for early settlement.

G 12.3 Under salam and istisna` contracts, the purchaser may give hibah to the seller who delivers the asset on time.

13. Arrangement of hibah with ijarah contract

G 13.1 The hibah contract may be arranged together with ijarah contract, whereby the lessor may transfer the ownership of the leased asset to the lessee upon settlement of the rental based on the following methods:

(a) binding promise (wa`d mulzim) to give the asset as hibah without any consideration; or

(b) conditional hibah which is contingent upon the settlement of the remaining installment.

S 13.2 Pursuant to paragraph 13.1 (a), the transfer of ownership shall be entered into through a hibah contract.

S 13.3 Pursuant to paragraph 13.1 (b), the ownership of the leased asset is transferred upon the full settlement of the rental.

S 13.4 Notwithstanding paragraph 13.1, the hibah contract shall be entered into independently and separately from the ijarah contract.
13.5 The lessor may give hibah to the lessee who pays the rental instalment on schedule.

13.6 The lessor may provide takaful coverage to the lessee as hibah without any consideration in return.

14. Arrangement of hibah with mudarabah contract

14.1 The mudarib may give hibah to the rabbul mal subject to the following conditions:

(a) The hibah is based on the discretion of the mudarib;

(b) The hibah shall not be sourced from the mudarabah capital or the rabbul mal’s portion of the profit;

(c) Provision of hibah shall not amount to a guarantee of capital and/or profit by the mudarib; and

(d) The granting of hibah shall not become a customary practice (‘urf).

15. Arrangement of hibah with wakalah contract

15.1 The hibah contract may be arranged together with wakalah contract.

15.2 The hibah contract shall be independent and separate from the wakalah contract.

15.3 Under this arrangement, the principal may stipulate a conditional hibah as a performance incentive fee to the agent/investment agent for performance that exceeds a specified target, such as profit that exceeds the expected profit, in addition to the pre-determined agreed agency fee.
G 15.4 The incentive fee based on hibah may be based on a percentage of the expected profit or may be an absolute amount.

G 15.5 The principal may give the investment agent, as hibah, all or part of the amount in excess of the expected profit.

G 15.6 The donor may appoint an agent to manage the hibah asset prior to its possession by the donee.

16. Arrangement of hibah with wadi‘ah yad dhamanah involving money (qard³)

G 16.1 The hibah contract may be arranged together with the qard contract whereby the borrower at his own discretion, may give hibah, either in monetary or non-monetary form, to the lender provided that it is not a pre-condition at the time of entering into the qard contract and provided that such practice does not become a customary practice (`urf).

S 16.2 Pursuant to paragraph 16.1, the practice of giving hibah is considered customary if the hibah is given to a majority of the borrower’s lenders.

S 16.3 The borrower in the qard contract shall not undertake to give hibah to the lender.

³ Under wadi‘ah yad dhamanah involving money, the asset in custody is in monetary form. Money is regarded as a form of fungible asset. Therefore, it is construed as a qard contract and shall adhere to the rules related to qard.
PART E REVOCATION (RUJU’) AND COMPLETION (INTIHA’) OF HIBAH CONTRACT

17. Revocation of hibah

G 17.1 A hibah contract may be revoked under the following circumstances:

   (a) A hibah contract that comes with a withdrawal condition;

   (b) The hibah asset is yet to be possessed by the donee; or

   (c) A hibah which is given by a father to his child.

S 17.2 Pursuant to paragraph 17.1, the revocation of hibah contract shall take either of the following effects:

   (a) prior to the possession of the asset by the donee, the asset remains in the ownership of the donor; or

   (b) after the possession by the donee, the asset shall be returned to the donor.

S 17.3 Pursuant to paragraph 17.2 (b), the asset is a trust (amanah) in the hand of the donee before it is returned to the donor.

S 17.4 The hibah contract shall not be revoked under the following circumstances:

   (a) Increase in value of the hibah asset;

   (b) Total loss of the hibah asset; or

   (c) Disposal of the hibah asset by the donee.

18. Completion of hibah

S 18.1 A hibah contract ends upon possession of the hibah asset by the donee or by his guardian or agent.

The Quran

19.2 The following verse of the Quran implies the general permissibility of the hibah contract:

فَإِن طِبْنَ لَكُمْ عَن شَيْءٍ مِّن‌هُ نَفَسًا فَكُلُوهُ هَنِيئًا مَّرِيئًا

“...but if they choose of their own accord to make over to you a part of it, then you may enjoy it with pleasure and good cheer.” (Surah al-Nisa’, verse 4)

The Sunnah of the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him)

19.3 The following hadith implies the permissibility of hibah:
